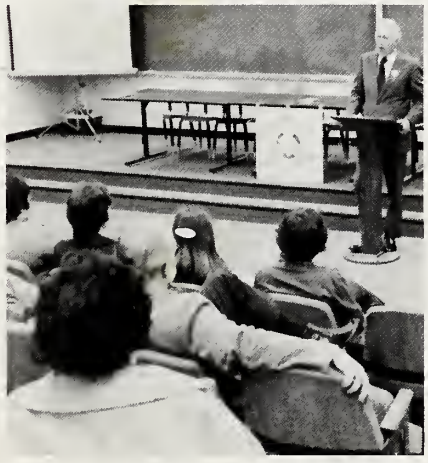
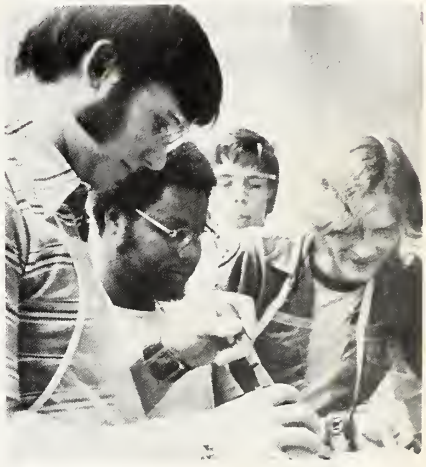
Your BAVIERE 1975 is a pictorial representation of the school year at Florence-Darlington Technical College. We as students, staff and faculty hope you enjoy and identify with our student body, our achievements and our aspirations for the progressing, promising future that we foresee.

Over 1600 hours have been spent on compiling the content of this yearbook and while we realize that every student or subject has not been covered due to early submission deadlines for publication, we believe Baviere '75 will capture the life and love of our college community. For those areas we missed, we apologize, and for those covered, we appreciate your cooperation.





1974-75 for Florence-Darlington TEC was a year of transition. Transition from a Technical Education Center to a Technical College; from 1794 to 2240 full-time curriculum students; from 653 to 1225 veterans; from over 75 high schools to one unified student body. We had an increase of 2 doz. faculty and staff members and a total course offering of 26 varied curricula and we survivied.

The "TEC Times" kept us up-to-date with news of the college community in the best quality issues in the history of the school. The Student Government Association sponsored activities in the area of intramurals, dances, field days, cookouts and free flicks. Organizations expanded and were created by interested students in the areas of Drama, Chess and Professional development. Students found lounge activities and facilities satisfying in the wake of study build-up and quite significantly also, our team basketball program experienced state-wide recognition in its most successful season ever. The mens team placed second in the state in the TEC league compiling an 8-5 conference note and 11-8 overall record. Womens lib also hit the court with our womens team taking undefeatedly the state title

But we have described the year for some, and only some, of the many unique students of our college family. What about the 4.0 student who enjoys nothing better than a trip to our well-stocked library; or the nature loving student who reads on the grasses of the campus or listens to the car tape player during the class breaks; or the lounge freaks who get headaches deciding whether to spend their final quarter in the juke box, foosball or pinball machines, on the pool tables or a new ping pong ball; or how about the lovers that can be seen affectionately walking to class or "elsewhere" together; or the browsers who divide their time between the bookstore and the library magazine shelf when they are not bugging the Student Personnel office with unanswerable questions; and then there are the carpoolers that hold up traffic loading and unloading their cultural clientel for a trip to Midway or Angelo's for "refreshments"; or the brown-nosers who spend every free minute doing favors for the faculty; and last but certainly far from least are the soap opera sitters who surround the lounge TV screaming with emotion and harshly reprimanding anyone infringing on their domain by playing the juke box or moving in front of the screen. But again there are many more, such as the cafeteria crew, the spades addicts or motorcycle riders or even a combination of any of the above, but if you were a member of the TEC community this year you have probably seen or can identify with the members of one of these specialized groups.

It is our sincere desire, however, that you have done more than identify with these factions of our institution - but that you have created them. And it is further our hope that the Florence-Darlington TEC BAVIERE will help you in a small way in reminiscing your college life for 1974-75.
